

Sept. 17, 1947.

Dear Dr. Beadle,

I should like to arrange to make up, for the benefit of our library, a set of microfilm copies of the theses and doctoral dissertations on Neurospora which are on deposit at the Stanford and Caltech Libraries. Tatum and Ryan have also indicated their interest. Could you do me the favor of recording the authors and titles of the theses which may be on deposit at one or the other library, which would greatly facilitate our selecting and ordering the titles?

As you can see, I have a new address, and what should turn out to be an interesting post. I'm sorry, however, that I shall have to miss your Silliman lecture at Yale next month. Perhaps we shall be seeing you at the AAAS meetings in Chicago, however.

Best regards,

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
